

Press Release

Wednesday 2nd March 2022, London, United Kingdom

PVE Consulting Ltd (PVE) and Africa Energy Partners (AEP) are pleased to announce a strategic alliance for the Africa Region, whereby the firms will work closely to support Energy clients and promote exploration and investment opportunities across the African continent.

Both firms are held in high regard within the E&P community for quality, integrity, strong Africa experience in oil, gas and energy and for delivering results. PVE and AEP look forward to working with clients in identifying, promoting and transacting on strategic energy assets across Africa.

Peter Elliott, CEO of PVE Consulting added “PVE and AEP have a strong track record working with oil, gas and energy companies to achieve success in Africa, and this new Joint Venture brings a new energy, reach and commercial insight to further support clients manage high value assets, investments and industry joint ventures”

Matthew Hewitson, Managing Partner, AEP, concluded “We are excited to be working with PVE Consulting and looking forward to a long-term partnership. With the challenging market globally for Oil & Gas companies, we are uniquely placed to offer a full turnkey solution that will allow clients to maximize investment revenue for their exploration & production assets in Africa.”

About PVE

PVE Consulting promotes oil, gas and energy opportunities in Africa and across the globe, as well as advising on oil company exploration campaigns and growth strategy.

www.pveconsulting.co.uk

About AEP

Africa Energy Partner (AEP) is an established international consultancy operating from their headquarters in the United Kingdom, specialising in the promotion, marketing & delivery of African Oil & Gas Licensing Rounds & Direct Negotiations.

www.africaenergypartners.co.uk